Human Resource
Human Resource Development
Develop “Self-Transforming People”
Full of Creativity and Challenging Spirit

J. Front Retailing aims to develop people with high ability to transform themselves, who have a high level of expertise in individual fields and can envision and implement new growth strategies with creativity and challenging spirit. To this end, for people who set a goal high and actively challenge something new, we provide growth opportunities and put in place systems to develop them through work, while striving to improve human resource capabilities according to individual abilities and traits.

Stances and initiatives on human resource development

Individuals set their own career goals and challenge toward them

Individuals grow by getting their jobs done and companies actively provide such opportunities

Based on two stances above, we position human resource development as the activity of the whole organization and address human resource development by integrating the “organization area,” the “individual area” and the “area connecting organizations and individuals.”

In the “organization area,” we will strengthen organization management capabilities using a “role structure chart” as an organization operation tool to develop people in the process of accomplishing difficult tasks on the job. We will also construct OJT systems and put in place OKUT training systems that provide expertise and skills systematically so that workers can acquire expertise and skills that accumulate organizations divided by function including the Original Merchandising Business, Daimaru Matsuzakaya Sales Associates and the out-of-store sales team.

In the “individual area,” we will expand open learning opportunities including trainings at external companies, MBA programs and external trainings. Employees set their own career goals and challenge these opportunities showing “intention and motivation” toward the achievement of their goals. At the same time, we will promote the effective use of the self-application system and the career entry system. The expertise courses of Career Support College (self-development school) will be improved and expanded to create opportunities to increase expertise and skills through personal development.

In the “area connecting organizations and individuals,” we will create a human resource map based on the information on the comprehensive assessment of human resources and develop a plan to strengthen human resource capabilities from a medium- to long-term perspective in an effort to promote systematic posting, appointment and development.

We will also increase opportunities for communication on career between individuals and companies through feedback including milestone interviews and multifaceted observation of behavior traits.

Development by human resource trait

Our desired human resources are “entrepreneurial people,” “management people” and “professional people” and we will develop people systematically based on the human resource development assumption for each type.

For example, for the “entrepreneurial people,” we will early select young people who have qualities and abilities as entrepreneurs and develop them by enthralling challenging and risky businesses to them and having them get through these businesses. We will also send them to external companies and trainings to make them learn business basics early.

The “management people” are those who can draw energy from members and reach organization goals through the management of organizations, people and operations and the “professional people” are those who can contribute to achieving organization results using a high level of expertise and skills. We will identify and systematically place people who have such qualities and abilities and develop people who create high added value through appropriate development plans and training programs.

Learning systems to support human resource development

Various learning programs are in place to help individuals learn independently and acquire various abilities.

Major programs include JFR Entry School for the three years after joining the company, which is designed to strengthen “individual basic skills” that form the basis for growth as leaders and “learning ability” that forms the basis for sustainable growth in the future. JFR Leader School that identifies vibrant human resources aged around 30 in the Group and encourages dramatic growth into “transformable leaders”; a career development training (for 27-year-olds) to review experience from the past to the present, find requirements (individual, environment and learning ability) for the achievement of future career vision and provide opportunities for independent career development toward the acquisition of ability to grow in a sustainable manner and contribution to organizations; and Career Support College, an in-house self-development school that provides approximately 400 courses including group trainings, correspondence courses and e-learning based on the concept of “career independence,” which means that we should create our careers ourselves. We will continue to expand and improve programs to support people who have their own career goals and try to become the “persons they want to be.”

Outline of human resource development

Development of self-transforming people through OJD (On-the-Job Development)*

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Development of self-transforming people through OJD (On-the-Job Development)*</th>
<th>Organization area</th>
<th>Human resource development and training</th>
<th>Individual area</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Development through posting</td>
<td>Development through organization management</td>
<td>Maximization of personal vitality facilitated by organization</td>
<td>Self-learning and growth based on HR traits and growth patterns</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Career route</td>
<td>Development through organization operation based on role structure chart</td>
<td>Organization practice</td>
<td>Individual growth and training based on HR traits and growth patterns</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clarity and implementation of career plan by employees</td>
<td>System to absorb intention and motivation of employees</td>
<td>Feedback to encourage self-awareness</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Development through organization operation based on role structure chart</td>
<td>Clarity and implementation of career plan by employees</td>
<td>System to absorb intention and motivation of employees</td>
<td>Feedback to encourage self-awareness</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Development of ability of organization</td>
<td>Feedback to organization activities</td>
<td>Feedback to encourage self-awareness</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*OJD Development system that combines organization management, which draws self-renewal in the process of challenging difficult tasks, and individual self-growth ability in addition to OJT and OKUT that complements OJT